Chandigarh's students dedicate summer vacations to social causes

NGOs in colleges revved up their social activities in vacations as students decided to make optimum use of their spare time

While spending a traditional summer vacation is a common trend, a group of students from the Nehru Group College in Chandigarh has taken a different path. Through their dedication to the social causes, they have managed to raise ₹ 2.54 lakh for a heart patient at Punjab. The students, who are primarily law college toppers, have raised the amount through various social activities. They have organized a series of events, including a music concert, a dance performance, and a quiz competition. The students have also been actively involved in community service, such as visiting old age homes and interacting with the residents. The group has been successful in raising the amount through their efforts. MCM drive for organ donation

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Chandigarh: The Rotaract Club of MCM DAV College for Women participated in 'More to Give' walkathon on Sunday. More than 50 Rotaract volunteers led by club coordinator Poonam Devasher and other teachers marched carrying placards with organ-donation slogans.

The objective was to create public awareness for this noble cause. The MCM Rotaractors maintained their spirit and enthusiasm all through the campaign. Speaking on the importance of organ donation, Poonam Devasher said: "Human life is transitory and organ donation is one way in which we can give back to society and live even after our death."

Lauding the efforts of the Rotaract Club, college principal Nisha Bhargava said the campaign will help dispel the myths associated with organ donation and save precious lives that could not be otherwise saved for want of organs.
